Gravekeeper Lysa Venn

Name: Lysa Venn
Role: Gravekeeper of Moonrest Haven
Ancestry: Human (fits population balance)
Age: 29
Disposition:
Soft-spoken, introspective, gently unsettling.
Lysa is kind… but there's always the sense she's listening to something no one else can hear.

Lysa Venn walks the graveyard paths of Moonrest at all hours, lantern in hand.
Her short, windswept blue-grey hair is adorned with dried flowers and small bone pins — offerings left by grieving families that she has quietly kept.
Her face is pale, touched by sea wind, with soft features and a distant, thoughtful gaze.
She wears layered, weathered robes marked with:
• wave symbols
• crescent patterns
• stitched hems resembling tide-lines
Shell charms and small tokens hang from cords at her waist.
The lantern she carries is always lit — even during daylight.
Inside, etched faintly into the glass, is a symbol resembling a broken tide circle.
Lysa tends the Cliffside Burial Grounds, overlooking the sea.
The graves are:
• uneven stone markers
• carved driftwood posts
• simple cairns of rock
Candles often burn between them.
No one remembers lighting most of them.
