Shrinekeeper Torv

Name: Torv of the Shrine
Role: Shrinekeeper
Ancestry: Leshy
Age: Unknown (appears elderly in demeanor)
Disposition:
Kind, contemplative, slightly mysterious.
Torv rarely speaks loudly and almost never hurries.
He tends to speak as if time is much longer for him than for others.

Role in Moonrest Haven

Torv maintains the Old Shore Shrine, a weathered stone structure built on a cliff overlooking the sea.
The shrine predates Moonrest itself.
Inside are simple offerings left by villagers:
• carved bone charms
• shells
• driftwood figures
• lantern candles
Torv tends the shrine daily, replacing offerings washed away by wind or tide.

Everyone in Moonrest knows Torv.
He has been present longer than most residents can remember.
Older villagers claim he appeared shortly after the village was founded.
Children often bring him:
• berries
• shells
• interesting stones
Torv always thanks them as though the gifts were priceless treasures.
He offers simple blessings to fishermen before they depart.

Personality

Torv embodies patience and quiet joy.
Traits:
• Gentle
• Thoughtful
• Curious about people
• Deeply spiritual
He speaks slowly and with unusual phrasing.
Example dialogue:
"The sea listens, even when we forget to speak."
